BLISS: The Tuscan town of Barga, known for its food and culture

IMAGINE 10 days in Tuscany, staying at a restored villa amid spectacular scenery, enjoying fine Italian food, dining your way around the region, enjoying cooking classes and world-class gourmet meals. Naturally, it would be in an unspoilt valley dotted with picturesque villages. If this is appealing, the Fabulous Food

Experience in May and June may be for you. Cooking classes will be held in the villa's restored barn and there will be visits to markets and restaurants, picnics, plus tours of the region. The cost is $4900 twin share, airfares not included.
